Dear contact,

My age year old daughter/son, name, was diagnosed with Type 1 Diabetes in month of year. A medical diagnosis like this is a shock to any family and it presents some particular struggles for a teenager/child. Our diabetes educator suggested she/he attend Camp Setebaid® which is a summer camp for children and teens with diabetes.

Setebaid Services,® Inc., the organization which operates Camp Setebaid, states “our programs aim to promote a healthy lifestyle while fostering a community of support from families who face similar challenges on a daily basis.”

The fee for the Setebaid summer camp is $1,350. We are reaching out to name of organization for some assistance to offset the camp fees, {in alignment with the Lions Club global diabetes awareness initiative}. I appreciate your time and consideration. I have attached the Camp Setebaid website link for reference <https://setebaidservices.org/parents/dates-rates/>.

Name is a year in school at name of high school and we reside in town/city.

Thank you for your consideration,
